Prize winners Peach day at Brigham City:—
Wrapping contest, five cases, eighty peaches to the case—Frederic Anderson, 8 minutes 40 seconds; Hazel Cheal, 9 minutes 50 seconds;—
Largest and best display—Charles Wilson, $25; second, John Evans, $15. Trophy cup—Austin Barker.
Sixty best peaches—John W. Hillstrom.
Best and largest case—Joseph Sigard, $1.50.
Best and largest Elbertas—Charles Anderson, $1.50.
Best Yellow Clings—Valentine Fruit Co., $1.50.
Best Chinese Clings—P. J. Peterson, $1.50.

In some respects, Brigham City's peach day this year, which is an unique annual event only known in Utah, and in no other state, was a greater success than it ever was before in all of its long history of success. The crowd was larger than it has ever been, but the displays were not so numerous nor so good in quality. This was due in part to the fact that the orchardists did not "thin" their orchards, and consequently got smaller stock but more of it. The crop is the largest that has ever been grown in the region whose center Brigham City is. The further fact that the growers are busy harvesting their crops had much to do with the small display.

Shipments Are Large.

Up to this time shipments for the year have been: Straight cars, 156; local freight, 23, a total of 179. This does not include the peaches sent to the canneries nor the enormous quantities hauled away by teams.
The storms this year in the Brigham district have not had damaging effect on the peach crop. The first storm left some fruit, but not to an appreciable degree. The growers say that it would have had had there been a bit more of frost. In that case, the orchardists would have thinned, as they have heretofore, and as a result the fruit would have been more select.

Heretofore growers have depended on the natural seasons for the thinning of the crops, but now they say the fine is necessary to attend to this highly important matter themselves especially in respect to Elbertas.

Prices Are Lower.

The peach market at Brigham yesterday ruled at 40 cents the bushel. There are nearly two and a half cases in a bushel. The fruit growers' associations have met with success, they say, in shipping on consignment to eastern markets. There the prices run 42 to 45 cents the case, which, deducting necessary expenses, nets the grower 30 cents the bushel. Of course, there are hazards and risks in connection with the consigning of fruit, it is pointed out. Peaches entered in the prize competition at Brigham yesterday were offered for sale at 35 cents a box.

Peaches for Everybody.

There were peaches for everybody yesterday. The passengers who came in on the special trains were provided with a card which entitled them each one to a souvenir box of peaches. This souvenir box contained six luscious peaches, and was a correct miniature imitation of the regulation peach case. Thirty-five hundred tickets had been provided, but at 2:20 o'clock this supply had become exhausted and 1,500 more were issued. It is, therefore, safe to say that there were five thousand adult or near-adult people in Brigham yesterday in addition to the three thousand inhabitants of the place. The idea of the souvenir peach box was furnished by J. C. Knudson, president of the Commercial club.

Three tons of cantaloupes were distributed and nobody knows how many tons of watermelons.

There was plenty of substantial food in the form of chicken and beefsteak, as well as fruit, and if any one went hungry in Brigham yesterday it was that one's own fault. There was a jam, it is true, but there was enough to go around.
The peach day celebration was in charge of the Box Elder Commercial club, an organization young, as time is measured by birth, but it has already done some marvelous things for Brigham City. It has comfortable quarters, which will be enlarged soon. The executive committee left the supervision of the peach day celebration in the hands of Norman Lee. Mr. Lee directed the efforts of the executive committee members, who are J. C. Knudson, Wynn L. Eddy, E. W. Dunn, Chris Simonsen, John W. Peters and J. D. Call.

delay was due to a hot box at Clearfield. The train started from Salt Lake with eighteen cars. Two more coaches were added at Ogden. The second special arrived at Brigham at about 11:30, and had twelve coaches. The trains from the Cache valley and the north brought hundreds of visitors and a multitude of country folk came in by means of vehicles. Returning, four of the southbound excursion cars were added to the train from Butte, which left Brigham at 8:30 o'clock. One of the special excursion trains left Brigham on the return trip at 8 o'clock and the other at 10:30.

The owners of conveyances in Brigham City did a thriving business. Every sort of bus, hack, spring wagon, from the four-horse to the one-horse, was in operation, and Depot street, one of the widest and prettiest avenues in the land, presented a scene of activity and bustle indeed. The municipality had the sprinkling carts out and there was no annoyance from dust.
The Brigham City band met the incoming visitors at the station. The band also gave two excellent concerts in the afternoon and evening.
Shortly before noon Mayor Thomas A. Blackburn delivered a brief address of welcome, in "Peach palace," just north of the court house, where the displays were arranged and the concessionaires had their booths and attractions. The mayor called attention to the prosperous condition of Brigham, and referred to the municipal improvements which have been made within the last few years. He invited those who sought investment to study the advantages offered by Brigham and the adjacent country, and in conclusion handed over "the keys to the city."

Mayor Blackburn was followed by John C. Knudson, president of the Commercial club. Mr. Knudson "seconded the motion" of Mayor Blackburn that the town belonged to the visitors. Respecting Brigham as a place for profitable investment, Mr. Knudson said: "Why do you go to the gold fields to seek remuneration for your efforts? There you get only dust and grains of gold, while here you get twenty-dollar gold right at the surface. Here an acre of land in orchard properly cared for often brings from $150 to $300 and $500."
"As a desirable city for residence, Brigham has no superior. It has the finest water system municipality of any city of its size in the world. Its electric lighting system is superb. Paving is progressing. A high school is now in course of construction, which will cost more than $50,000. We want to prepare our people for the college, and therefore we are sparing no expense to perfect our educational system."

Deft With Their Fingers.

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the day for those who had never seen it was the peach wrapping contest. In this competition Misses Irene Anderson and Hazel Cheal were the rivals. Miss Cheal is a little mite of a thing. She had to stand on a high box to reach the stand of the work boards. She worked like lightning and her tiny hands flew with amazing swiftness. She won the contest, ever, by the fact that she was compelled to reach deep into the supply box when the peaches got low, and by the further fact that the size of her fingers and hand compelled her to make an extra motion on each wrapping.

Miss Anderson is a past master in the art of adorning peaches with tissue paper. In the place where she is employed it is a common thing for her to wrap from 100 to 100 cases a day. The price paid for wrapping is 15 cents a case. Miss Anderson's exhibition of skill yesterday was little short of marvelous. It was announced that her time was the best ever made by a girl wrapper.

Two electric theatres were running at full blast, and there was dancing in the afternoon and evening.
The baseball game between the Occidentals of Salt Lake and the Wellsville team was an interesting contest. The Occidentals won by the narrow margin of one run. Langford and Black were the batteries for the Occidentals and Settle and Johnson for Wellsville.
Throughout the day the weather was ideal; indeed, at times the sun shone so brightly that the throngs were glad that there was an inviting shady lawn at courthouse place, where one might stretch oneself in supreme and luxurious comfort and wish that every day were Peach day in Brigham City; and it was not until after the evening was well advanced that the thunder roared and the rain threatened.

RACKET AND RED FIRE CAMPAIGN

"Just what the result will be," he added, "will not be determined until time has elapsed for answer to the appeal."

On his return west in ten days, Judge Bullard will devote some time to the situation in Oregon and California. The whole coast, however, he says, is in splendid shape from a Republican standpoint.
Congressman Duncan McKinlay of California, who has been making speeches in Vermont and Maine, stopped off to greet Judge Taft. He is on his way back to California. Congressman McKinlay said: "Maine did much better at this election than I thought it would. The dissatisfaction among the Republicans with the enforcement of the Sturgis liquor law was quite general in the large towns and cities and although the majority is less than 5,000 that is 5,000 more than I thought we would get. The Republican congressmen, however, had increased majorities. I am satisfied that the majority in Maine will in the presidential election be three times what it was for governor. The Democrats would not meet us on any of the national issues at all, not even the candidates for congress. They held it down to the rebusmission of the liquor law."

Regarding the situation in his own state he said:
"In California the situation is good for Judge Taft. The opposing Republican factions have come to an agreement and although there are some differences as to local affairs there are none as to the congressional and national ticket."

THREE TRIPS PLANNED.

Judge Taft Will Keep Going Until Election When He Starts.

Cincinnati, Sept. 16.—Judge W. H. Taft will make three campaign tours. His first will begin here Sept. 22 and end Oct. 7 at Galesburg, Ill. This trip will take him through Wisconsin, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska, Colorado, Kansas and Missouri. He will make one or more speeches in each of these states and fill in with numerous short addresses from the rear platform of his special train.
The second trip will take him into Kentucky, Tennessee and possibly North Carolina.
The last trip will be in the east. New York City will be visited, and a speech will be made in the southern part of the Empire state. New England will not be included in this trip, but speeches will be made in Maryland, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio, which will bring the candidate back to his native city for the election.

TWO WIVES ASK DIVORCE

Susie Davis Complains of Non-Support and Luella Vass Charges Desertion.

Two wives yesterday asked the district court for decrees of divorce.
Susie Davis married David B. Davis on March 4, 1903, and asserts that during the past four years he has neglected to provide her or her two children with the common necessities of life. Aside from a divorce, she asks the custody of the children.
The marriage, it is asserted, was on the verge of dissolution, the parents of the bride being opposed to the union. Davis was at the time a deputy county clerk, and was later sent to jail for nine months for his connection with the bounty fraud scandal.
Luella Vass charges her husband, Peter Vass, with cruelty. In her complaint she says that while they were living in Denver last year Vass struck her with a chair and at the same time drew a knife and threatened to take her life. He has also used bad language towards her, and since March 8, 1907, has not supported his family. They were married May 22, 1880, and have one child, aged 20 years, of whom the mother asks the custody.

Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold.
A. J. Nushbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, but a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed to only aggravate my case. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package, and it quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success. F. J.
